A two-year-old son of Dr. F. B. Johns, of Lexington, swallowed a half dozen anti-constitution pills from the effects of which he died.

Secretary Hoke Smith has made a ruling opening to settlement several thousand acres of land in Southern California, claimed by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

A case of cholera is reported to have developed on the German bark Helene, en port at Guaymas, Mexico, seven months out from Hamburg. The vessel is quarantined.

The Covington Board of Education passed an ordinance giving women over twenty-one years of age the right to vote for members of the board, and also the right to be elected to the board.

Baron Hastings, who has a seat in the House of Commons and who moves in the exclusive set of the Prince and Princess of Wales, was fined fifty pounds in a London Police Court for insulting a young girl.

The Indiana State Prison South, at Jeffersonville, suffered a $80,000 fire on Thursday. The fire broke out in the Claggett Saddlery Company's shop, and for a time it looked like the entire prison would be destroyed. Many convicts aided in subduing the flames and none escaped.

A large number of representatives are absent from their sworn duty at Frankfort. Some of them are at home looking after their farming interests. Some are at Washington after pro, and others are away attending to other personal matters. They will return to Frankfort as soon as they can spare time from their current calls.

If a Lord insults a lady, even though he associates with the Prince of Wales' set, he must pay the penalty. Although a Lord, he is but a man. For so it was with George Mansfield, who has a seat in the House of Commons, as Baron Hastings. He was sentenced by the court to pay fifty pounds or be imprisoned for three months.

The contract for the building of the North Middlesex College, has been let, and will be completed by Aug. 12, 1893, in time for the fall term. The Weekly Advance estimates that some of the citizens near home have as yet, failed to make a subscription for so laudable a cause. The debt, $1500, is a small one and doubtless will be provided for before a foundation stone has been laid.

It has been discovered that $2,000,000 has been paid out by the Pension Bureau under a ruling made in 1876, which is now said to have been erroneous, and the payments consequently illegal. The ruling was reversed by Assistant Secretary Bussey, but the fact that the money had been wrongfully paid out was carefully kept from the public by the Republican Administration. The light begins to search out these mouldy corners.

Rector Ahward, the notorious member of the Reichstag who several days ago declared he had in his possession papers to prove that Prince Bismarck, while Chancellor, connived with certain Jewish bankers and threw into their hands vast sums of Government money, said to the Committee of Inquiry Friday, that these papers have been stolen from him. He begged the committee to keep his confession secret, but Chancellor Caprivi threatened to quit the committee if the request was granted.

Washington, D. C., March 27.

President Cleveland has done no more popular thing since he assumed his high office than when he "jumped on," to use a bit of expressive slang, the head of the slimy serpent, nepotism, which had started to wriggling around entirely too promiscuously. He first took occasion to inform a distinguished Southern Senator who had appointed his son to be Clerk of the Senate committee of which he was lately made chairman, that in consequence of that appointment, indicating a desire to look out for his personal and family interests first of all, his recommendations had been much weakened. Next, he took a Western Congressman's breath away, when, as a clinching argument in favor of the appointment to office of one of his constituents, he said: "And he is a reliable of yours, Mr. President," by saying: "That settles it. No relative of mine shall be appointed to office by me." He then gave evidence of his President's a short but comprehensive lesson on nepotism, which it is safe to say, he will never forget if he lives a century. It is also safe to say that the head of the aforesaid slimy serpent will not be reared in any of the executive departments for four years to come, all of which is decided gain for the country.

The executive department are being put upon a Democratic basis as rapidly as possible, and Republican chiefs of bureaus and divisions are being succeeded by Democrats as fast as the heads of the departments can select the new officials. Democratic economy is also being put into practical operations. Following Secretary Morton's order dismissing all the superfluous employees of the Department of Agriculture, came an order from Secretary Carlisle to the division chiefs of the Treasury Department, ordering the immediate dismissal of every employee not absolutely essential to keep up the work of the department. The Democratic Administration was voted into power to reduce the extravagant expenditures of the Government, and every member of it is fully determined that the wishes of the voters shall be carried out to the letter.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell, the gentleman who will wield the axe made famous by Vice-President Stevenson, is on deck and already hard at work. There are several thousand resignations of fourth-class postmasters on hand, and these will be disposed of before he begins the work of removing Republican postmasters.

Speaking of postmasters, Postmaster General Bisell stated to a delegation of Missouri Congressmen that the policy of the department concerning appointments had been misrepresented by a certain class of newspapers. In the first place, it had been stated by these newspapers that the recommendations of Congressmen would count for nothing. As a refutation of that statement the fact was pointed out that not a single postmaster had yet been appointed who did not have the endorsement of his Congressman. But not disposed to ignore the Congressmen, Mr. Bisell said that the question of who should be postmaster should, in a measure at least, be decided by the people of the locality, who were more directly interested than anyone else, and that the wishes of the people, when expressed, would certainly be considered in making the appointments. Nobody is to be ignored. What the department wants is the co-operation of both the people and the Congressmen in the selection of such postmasters as will increase the efficiency of the postal service. Mr. Bisell also denounced as false the statement that women and editors are to be discriminated against in the selection of postmasters.

The number of nominations sent to the Senate this week is considerably ahead of any other single week. There have necessarily been some personal disappointments, but with the exception of the nominations of Burke and Hawkins to be United States Attorney and Marshal for Indiana, over which there was a little flurry, no adverse criticisms have been made of any of them by Democrats.

The Democratic caucus decided to elect the officers of the Senate at the present extra session, and nominated ex-Congressman E. M. R. Cox, of North Carolina, for Secretary; Bishop J. Bright of Indiana, for Sergeant-at-Arms, and Rev. W. H. Mihm, the blind preacher who has been Chaplain of the House for several terms, for Chaplain. The Republicans threaten to resort to filibustering to prevent an election of these officers, but it is believed they are only making a bluff to enable them to keep as many Republicans in the subordinate positions as possible.

Senator Harris, of Tennessee, has been elected President pro tempore of the Senate, but as Vice President Stevenson gives evidence of his intention to stick more closely to his duties than his predecessors have usually done, he will not be called on to preside over the Senate very often. She decidedly better. Her son, Ben R. Turner responded to the telegram by leaving on the first train for Ocala.

On last Friday evening, Jamie Rogers was coming in from Howard's Mill, where he had been to call on Sheriff J. S. Cline, of Pike County, Ky., having in charge five murderers reached Cattettsburg Sunday en route to Frankfort. Three of the five are sentenced for life. Two, John and Levi Wright, are mere boys, being aged respectively eleven and twelve years. Whatever may be the outcome of the prison middle it should be the hope of every citizen in the State that in the future provision should be made for the incarceration of such children as these in buildings separate from those imprisoning the hardened cut-throats and thieves.

Investigation conducted by Methodist preachers resulted in Maslshur's acquittal. This did not please Dobbs, and he has been talking so freely lately that the Sam Jones, whose family has suffered from the rumors abroad, in the Methodist church last Sunday night denounced Dobbs as only Sam Jones can, intimating that he would be ready to meet Dobbs next day. This coming to Dobbs' ears, he fortified himself with a pistol, and Mr. Jones was equally ready for what might happen.

Methodist and Baptist have ceased speaking to one another, and the town is in a fever of excitement, crowds following the two preachers every time they make a public appearance.

Mr. Harry Campbell, the gentle manly merchant tailor, who is a real artist in his calling, has on hand some elegant suitings. Call to see him. He understands fully how to meet the wants of his customers. We know no better that sends out more tastefully styled suits than does Mr. Campbell. He is now in receipt of one of the handsomest lines of cloths that he has ever brought on. Don't take our word for it, but call and see what he has for his trade.

A yard engine and two cabooses were wrecked in the yards of the Clinchfield Southern railroad at Somerton, Ky., Sunday afternoon. Yardman Fletcher B. Gray was killed and Brakeman Moon and Tucker were badly hurt.

The Government of Spain, through the State Department, has officially tendered to the United States as a gift the reproduced flagship of Columbus, the "Santa Maria," now some way in the Gulf of Mexico, en route to this country to participate in the naval review and for a part of the Spanish exhibit at Chicago.

A telegram last week from Ocala, Fla., announced the intelligence that Mrs. Theo. Turner was in a dying condition. Late messages stated that she was improving, and the latest news we are glad to say, is that she is decidedly better. Her son, Ben R. Turner responded to the telegram by leaving on the first train for Ocala.

To the aged and sorrow stricken parents the sympathy of the community goes out: God has lain on them a burden so heavy that they can scarcely bear it. May his grace suffice for them in this hour.

A special from Atlanta, Ga., says that the little town of Carterville is all torn up, because Rev. Charles Dobbs Baptist and Rev. Sam Jones, Methodist (the noted evangelist), are carrying Ingoldsby for each other.

"For a year past the air around Carterville has been laden with stories of an unsavory nature, in which prominent families have been victims. This resulted in the sending of anonymous letters to Mr. Dobbs and others. Dobbs placed the blame on the Rev. Mr. Maslshur. An investigation conducted by Methodist preachers resulted in Maslshur's acquittal. This did not please Dobbs, and he has been talking so freely lately that the Sam Jones, whose family has suffered from the rumors abroad, in the Methodist church last Sunday night denounced Dobbs as only Sam Jones can, intimating that he would be ready to meet Dobbs next day. Col. Elliott Finch Shepard, of the New York Mail and Express, died suddenly at his home in New York Friday. His death was wholly unexpected. He was under the influence of ether preparatory to an examination for inspection stone in the bladder. His physician says his death was caused by epilepsy.

Elliott Fitch Shepard, was born in Jamestown, Chautauque county, N.Y., July 25, 1833. He was educated at the University of the City of New York, admitted to the bar in 1858, and for many years practiced in New York city. In 1861 and 1862, Alde-de-Camp on the staff of Gov. Edwin Morgan, who was in command of the Department of Volunteers at Elmira, N.Y., and aided in organizing, equipping, and forwarding to the field nearly 5,000 troops. He was instrumental in raising the Fifty-first New York regiment, which was named for the 51st Regt. of the New York State Cavalry. He was the founder of the New York State Bar Association in 1876, which has formed the model for the organization of similar associations in other States. In March, 1888, he purchased the New York Mail and Express.

At Lick Skillet, A. Stecman was making an exhibit of his bears when one got loose and seriously injured a young lady. The people for this cause, killed the bear and would have dealt foully with its owner, but he hastened unmercifully away.

Housin was ill of typhoid fever and in his delirium pronounced a revolver, fired at his father and Murphy coming on the scene he shot and instantly killed him. Both were prominent and exemplary business men.

A wild storm of unusual severity and wide extent, visited the South on Thursday afternoon and night; whilst the Northwest caught it, at the same time in the shape of a blizzard, driving snow, hail and sleet with fearful effect. Much damage was done to property and some lives were lost in the South; Kelly, Tupelo and Tunica towns in Mississippi suffered much; Nashville, Tenn., hit hard; Bowing Green, Ky., also received a visit from the uninvited stranger. Telegraph wires all over the section visited were blown down and for a time communication was cut off.

ates planted shallow in rows ways and well-filled are intended to rot than deep-planted ones receive little chilling. Probably because of the heat, more than weather, and the killed become heated than the deep-planted.

Be merciful to your beast, but do carry your kindness to extremes. Warm stables but let there be no lack of ventilation, and let this be so arranged that the animals are never in a draft. If the stable is sufficiently warm it is unnecessary to blanket horses with a light blanket to prevent soiling.

Climate, it is said, changes the nature of sheep's fleece. An example of this is taking place in Australia. The fleeces of the strains of English sheep taken into that country are said to be getting much lighter owing to the fact that a heavy coat is not necessary under a warm sky.

Long hours in the barns are not always the most profitable. A very successful farmer says: "Show me a man who works from fifteen to eighteen hours a day on his farm and I will show you a man who is invariably behind with his work and out of sympathy with his business."

The Coming Hog.

A member of the Michigan Swine Breeders' Association said at a meeting of that organization:

I believe the coming hog will be black—white—red, with spots if you please, and we will put the spots just where they want them. He will be as well-behaved as other domestic animals, and we will not require extra feeding on his account. He will be ready for market at any age, and will give 200 pounds of dressed carcass at eight months old. He will have all the good qualities of the Poland China, the Chester White, the Victoria, the Essex, the Yorkshire, with the gentle disposition of the Durce Jersey and the lean meat of the Berkshire.

Spring Management of Bees.

There is only one thing which is really essential to look after, as soon as the bees are set from the cellar or in early spring, no matter which way the bees have been wintered, and that is to see that they have plenty of honey to last them until pollen becomes plentiful. This can best be done on any cool morning by raising the cover from the hive and turning back the quilt, or whatever covers the comb, doing this carefully, so as not to scare the bees. If plenty of sealed honey is seen along the top-bars of the frames, the bees are all safe; and if otherwise they are not safe, and should be fed enough to last four or five weeks, always remembering that bees consume more honey at this time than they do during the fall and winter months.

Moving made sure that they all have honey enough, there is no further need of molesting the bees till the weather becomes warm enough for them to work in the fields or trees gathering pollen; in fact, it is now believed that further disturbance is positively detrimental, inasmuch as it often causes the loss of bees and brood, as well as a greater consumptive of honey, without any proportionate gain to the colony.

Sunshine comes, no matter how dark the clouds are, when the woman King is born down by woman's troubles turns to Dr. Piero's Favorite Prescription. If her life is made gloomy by the chronic weakness, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, they are completely cured. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run down," she has new life and strength.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating balsm and a soothing and strengthening nervine, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. For every "female complaint" and disturbance. It is the only remedy so sure and unfailing that it can be guaranteed.

Then they would seek the pastor for recommendation as a member in good standing and of high moral character."

THE ADVOCATE.

Sheep In Orchards.

A correspondent asks if sheep kept in an apple orchard to pick up and eat the fallen fruit would be a sure preventive of the apple maggot so that the fruit gathered from the trees would be free from the insect? I must answer that while keeping sheep in an orchard during summer and fall would greatly tend to make the apples sound, it would not be a sure preventive under usual conditions. Not all the infested fruit falls to the ground before harvest time, much of it going into the cellar where the maggots may mature and be ready for next year's operations. If all the neighbors would keep sheep to destroy all fallen fruit and if the picked apples were all consumed and the maggots destroyed there would be none left for seed, but such thoroughness is rare among truck-growers. Apple paring and cores thrown upon the ground in back yards or gardens tend to perpetuate such insect pests. The past season I gathered and buried most of the fallen fruit under my own trees and doubt not that such practice will help reduce the number of live insects that will be ready for business this year but I have neighbors' trees unearfed for just beyond the garden fence. We are not very independent creatures in this world, after all.—N. E. Farmer.

Now York Judge—You are charged with firing off your pistol at Broadway. Texan—Yes, Judge, I was just celebrating the Fourth of July. Judge—but yesterday was not the Fourth of July. Texan—I know it, Judge, but I reckon I'll be here on the Fourth of July. Judge—Oh, yes you will, unless you pay a $100 fine.—[Texas Siftings.]

"Patrick, you haven't given fresh water to the goldfish." No, Mice, they ain't drunk wot they had already."—[Harpers Bazaar.]

He—if I should—er—ask you to marry me—She'd make the thirteneen.—[Life.]

Mrs. Henry Thinhikley, of Roxbury, Conn., was a bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked hearty lass of 12 years when she married Henry Thinhikley, aged 16, 11 months ago. Her name was Lizzie Bishop. Sunday evening she broke the world's record by presenting to her husband three stout, healthy and strong-lunged children. There are two girls and one boy in the set.

A strike is brewing among the operators upon the Northern Division of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western Railroad, and it may spread over the entire line. It is stated that the men are preparing to go out April 1. The men have been dissatisfied for some time as to the wages, but they were unable to remonstrate effectively as they were unorganized.

Kumpert McCoy, a hunter, was duck shooting a few miles below St. Joseph, Mo., when he noticed a large dry goods box floating down the stream. He broke it open, when a dead body rolled out. In the box were five bodies, all in decomposed condition. Four of the bodies are those of men, the other that of a woman. From the marks it is supposed the people were murdered.

What a Baby is.

A London paper awarded a two-guinea prize for the best definition of a baby. The woman who won the prize sent in this answer:

A tiny feather from the wing of love dropped into the sacred lap of motherhood.

Following are some of the definitions given:

The bachelor's horror, the mother's treasure and the despotic tyrant of the most repulsive household.

The morning caller, mousy crawler, midnight brawler.

The only precious possession that never excites envy.

The latest edition of humanity, of which every couple think they possess the finest copy.

A native of all countries who speaks the language of none.

About twenty-two inches of coo and wiggle, wriggle and scream filled with suction and testing apparatus for milk and automatic alarm to regulate supply.

A quaint little craft called Innocence, laden with simplicity and love.

A thing we are expected to kiss and look at if we enjoy it.

A little stranger with a free pass to the heart's best affections.

That which makes home happier, love stronger, patience greater, hands busier, nights longer, days shorter, purses lighter, clothes shabbier, the past forgotten, the future brighter.

The time of grafting is near at hand.

A punny soil is very generally preferred for onions.

For foliage effect, the tulip and the plane trees are among the finest.

The Hubbard squash is one of the very best for fall and winter market or home use.

The Bordeaux mixture is still preferred by many for prevention of parasitic diseases of plants.

In Mechan's Monthly it is advised not to cut an osage orange hedge until three years after it is planted.

Scientific experiments made by the New Jersey Station emphasize the importance of manure of potash for peach-trees.

Those who have tried it say that Loret's blackberry is an excellent all-round berry, being hardy, early, prolific and of good quality.

A correspondent in the Farm Journal suggests that Bordeaux mixture will prove an excellent disinfectant if applied to the cellar walls and kitchen ceiling.

Mr. McMillan, authority in such matters, does not think much of ash and beech trees for street planting, except the white and European species.

It is reported from the Colorado Station that a large majority of those who had the temerity to plant fruit trees along the valley of the Arkansas have reason to be encouraged by the results of their ventures.

The New England Families.

Though puritan children had but few recreations and amusements, they must have enjoyed a very cheerful, happy home life. Large families abounded. Cotton Mather says;

"One woman had not less than twenty-two children, and another had no less than twenty-three children by one husband, whereas nineteen lived to man's estate, and a third who was mother to seven-and-twenty children."

Sir William Phipps was one of twenty-six children, all with the same mother.

Primer Green had only thirty children.

The Rev. John Sherman, of Watertown, had twenty-six children by two wives—twenty by his last wife.

The Rev. Samuel Willard, first minister of Groton, had twenty children, and his father had seventeen children.

Benjamin Franklin was one of a family of seventeen.

The little Puritans rejoiced also in some very singular names, the offspring of Roger Clap being good examples: Experience, Waitstill, Preserved, Hopetill, Wait, Thanks, Desire, Unity, and Supply.

Old warfield.

W. H. Harzell, of Missouri, wishes to learn something about the saddle she is known in Montgomery county, Ky., as "Old Warfield." He says his information was that he was a famous saddle horse and sire, and that all his colts were marked with a dark spot on the side. He wishes to know more about him as he has a mare by him and she is marked as above.

He probably refers to Forum's Warfield No. 82 in Vol. I, N. S. H. R. This horse was sired by Thomas Lewis' Warfield, he by the old race horse, Lexington.—Farmers Home Journal.

Lincoln's Tomb.

The Evening Journal (Chicago)

"Abraham Lincoln's tomb at Springfield has fallen from its high place as the shrine of a mighty nation. The spot where rests the earthly remains of one of the two greatest men in American history is fast falling into decay, and the stately monument erected at the capital of Illinois to commemorate the love of a people, is scarred and marred from the attack of vandals and relic-hunters."

His most malignant enemy in the "lost cause" could scarcely desire more indignities heaped upon "Honest Abe's" grave than now daily fall to his lot.

The Lincoln monument has never been completed, although $250,000 was subscribed by the American people to build it.

The custodian says there is danger of the monument falling to pieces because of the defective workmanship and material put into it.

It is the intention of the purchasers to convert part of the land into tobacco farms as fast as possible, and if necessary will import Swedish and German laborers. The soil has been carefully examined by expert tobacco growers and pronounced suitable to the growth of the finest cigar leaf, equal in every respect to that grown in Cuba. Samples of the tobacco grown on the land were examined and found to be exceptionally fine, although grown by new beginners and cured by a crude process. ## CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 2.

Comment by Rev. S. H. Dyer.

Topic—Easter.

Topic—Easter.

Easter was the name of the goddess of spring, and in her honor a festival was accustomed to be held in April. This had been changed into the Christian festival which commemorates the resurrection of Christ. The Christian Easter corresponds to the Jewish pascha, or passover, and many nations still give it this name under various forms. It is a day of thanksgiving to be a memorial of the resurrection, in order that we may not only have kept fresh in our memories the death of Christ, but may look beyond the day of crucifixion, with all its sadness, to the day of resurrection, with joy and gladness. We may hear again and again the angel's announcement: "He is not here, but risen."

1. The resurrection and Christ. John xi., 23.

"Then said Jesus Himself to Nicodemus, 'Behold, I show you signs of what I do; that ye may believe, and that ye may know that I am the Christ, the Son of God, and that I do all things in His Name.'

2. The resurrection and the church.

Martha believed in Christ; she also believed in the resurrection, but she had not united the two in her mind. Jesus told her that did not hinder him in his relation to the resurrection. The meaning of His words probably is, I am the one by whom my people rise again and am not only the resurrection, but also the life. They speak not only of the resurrection of His people, but also of the resurrection of the church.

THE ADVOCATE.

HORSE AND TRACK.

All but two of the colts foaled on the Allen Farm in 1891 have been gelded.

Don't sell the best brood mares and breed the blemished and inferior ones.

Thirty-two of Strathmore's get started in races last year.

Sidney has sired five colts that have taken records better than 2:40 as yearlings.

Axtell, 2:12, is jugging all right and he will be asked to go some fast miles this year.

There is no demand for geldings in Axtell, but stallions and mares sell quickly.

Over 1,200 tracks are members of either the National or American Trotting Associations.

Nanette, the dam of Arion, 2:10½; and Oro Fino, 2:18, has a bay colt by Palo Alto, 2:08½.

Remember the sale of fine horses in this city April 5th; Mr. G. T. Fox administrator of J. D. Cockrell will sell some good ones.

Belle Archer, 2:12½, seems to have gotten over her crankiness, and now drives quietly about the streets of Nashville, Tenn.

Do not forget that the sale of trotters belonging to the estate of J. D. Cockrell will be sold on April 5, at Thompson's stable. Write to G. T. Fox, Mt. Sterling, for catalogues.

Size cuts but a small figure in the money value of the trotting stock which are designed for campaigning purposes, but it makes a difference when they are to be used as roadsters.

J. E. Kitzmiller, of Lexington, Ky., will take Edward Wilkes, 2:22½, and his choice collection of brood-mares to Wichita, Kas., where he has purchased a farm.

There is no disputing the fact that a stud is being kept before the public by an enterprising owner is more desirable to breed to than one that is handicapped by a penurious owner.

An exchange asks why some big stakes are not opened for pacing stallions. With Guy, 2:06½; Roy Wilkes, 2:07½; Storm, 2:08; Riley Medium, 2:10½; Online, 2:11, and other fastnesses, such a class ought to fill well.

It is reported that M. Salsbury, when he comes east this summer with his string, will bring along Stenwender, the dam of Director, 2:11, to be bred to Director, 2:17, with a view of getting a brother or sister of the phenomenal black colt.

In breeding trotters or any other kind of stock the increase is so rapid that it requires constant care not to get overbred, says a practical writer. And every breeder should make it a point not to become overstocked, even if some have to be sold for less than what they are actually worth.

Judge Peters will sell, on April 1, nine head of well-bred horses, among them is a sister of Bell Peters, 2:23½, and a very fine filly out of her by Country Baron. There are also some fine saddle colts and fillies. This stock was all bred by Judge Peters, and will be sold at auction. Come to the sale and get some bargains; sale begins promptly at 2 o'clock. Write to Judge B. J. Peters for catalogues.

In purchasing three highly-bred trotting stallions, the Austrian Government has shown an interest in the American trotter that is very encouraging to those breeders who are anxious to create an European market for the produce of our breeding establishments. With the governments of Austria and Italy, and many of the leading breeders of France, England, Germany and Russia showing a lively interest in the American trotter, the long-talked-of foreign market for our light-harnessed horses seems to be changing from a possibility to a reality.

About ten years ago, during a season of financial depression all over the country, the trotting breeders were putting their stock on the market at very low prices. Many fine horses were purchased then, the sellers being ready to accept almost any price, while the purchasers who took advantage of the low market reaped a large profit in a very few years. Money is scarce in business circles now, and the horse industry feels it as keenly as any other business. History repeats itself, and those who purchase judiciously now will certainly make a profit.

Captain S. S. Brown, the well-known thoroughbred breeder, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has decided to go into the trotting-horse business. He has bought of Bowerman Bros. and John E. Madden, of Lexington, the following broodmares: Louise, the dam of Amadister, 2:23½; by George Wilkes with foal to Wilton; a daughter of Gov. Sprague, with a record of 2:28, with foal to Red Wilkes; a daughter of Onward, with foal to Egbert; a daughter of Baron Wilkes and of Happy Medium, with foal to Red Wilkes. Capt. Brown's farm is located near LaGrange, Ky., and is now stocked with thoroughbreds.

A Bullet Proof Vest.

A tailor of Mainz, Germany has invented a cloth cuirass that will resist a bullet; it has been approved by the German war department.

Uniforms of the new estate placed on wooden effigies were not pierced by balls shot from points one hundred, two hundred or four hundred meters distant. At shorter range the wooden figures were so deeply dented that the officers concluded the force of the impact sufficient to stunt a man.

To make the cuirass the tailor merely applies a secret preparation to an ordinary cloth tunic. Thus prepared the tunics weigh six pounds. The prepared cloth could not be utilized to protect the arms and legs, as it would hamper greatly the movements of the soldier.

President Cleveland informed Representative Enloe that "no demagogic politician" will be appointed Commissioner of Pensions. It is said to be his intention to appoint a business man who can keep the bureau free from the political scandals that have too often been associated with it. Neither Tammany nor Roscoe Willard will have any place under this administration.
